

Rony^a Barrett, 4 October 1977, GOOD MORNING AMERICA.

And a few ~~months~~^{Weeks} ago when GMA devoted two hours to the 30th Anniversary of the CIA, we had the opportunity to ask Admiral Stansfield Turner, the CIA Director, how accurate Hollywood was in its portrayal of espionage agents. The Admiral said Hollywood exaggerated, especially in the area of an agent's sexual prowess. Despite the fact that daily on the news we are given reports about how CIA agents have used sex in order to gain information. One of Hollywood's biggest faker's, according to Turner and others, is James Bond.....
